STAR★TEE

January 02, 2019

Dear Customer: The U.S. government passed on August 14, 2008 the Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act (CPSIA), with the purpose of strengthening the enforcement of federal consumer product safety laws enforced by the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC). Startee is aware of these legal requirements imposed by the CPSIA and further recognizes that consumer product safety is an issue of tremendous importance.

Startee has been testing all of our products for many years, and confirm that all products we sell meet current federal requirements. We assure our manufactured products are in compliance with the Flammable Fabrics Act, Federal Hazardous Substances Act, and the CPSIA through the performance and documentation of any product testing required by the CPSIA. Startee shall provide, upon request, a General Certificate of Conformity (GCC) for any product that is subject to any safety rule, ban, standard, regulation or law aforementioned. Please be advised that any certifications we provide are for the finished, blank products we produce. If any of our blank products is later altered or treated, in any way, by a third party, our testing and certifications will not apply to the decoration or additional treatments added to the garment. Startee continues to monitor CPSIA developments and shall make all necessary adjustments to our program, in order to comply with all CPSC rules. Should you have any questions regarding the safety of our products, please feel free to contact us

Sincerely,

Startee Apparel, Inc.
