Dear Kimberly:

We are writing to you regarding compliance with the Consumer Product Safety Commission Improvement Act of 2008 (the "Act").

Please be assured that PVH Corp. ("PVH") has a reasonable testing program in place for all of its apparel and accessory products as and to the extent required by the Flammable Fabrics Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder (16 CFR Parts 1602-1632), the lead in surface coatings limit (16 CFR Part 1303), sharp points and edges standard (16 CFR §1500.48/49) and regulations regarding lead content pursuant to the Federal Hazardous Substances Act (15 U.S.C. §1261), which are the only Consumer Products Safety Commission standards, bans, rules or regulations that apply to the products manufactured, imported, distributed or sold by PVH. Please be advised that, except for the Flammable Fabrics Act, these standards, bans, rules and regulations apply only to "children's products" and that PVH does not sell any children's products to you.

We are prepared to deliver to you a copy of the General Conformity Certification required by the Act applicable to goods that we sell to you upon your request.

Please contact Susan Rosenfeld (susanrosenfeld@pvh.com or 212-381-3944) or the undersigned (markfischer@pvh.com or 212-381-3509) if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Mark D. Fischer
Executive Vice President
