Dear Valued Customer,

Headsweats, the world leader in Performance Headwear, is a company committed to providing safe and compliant products to all our customers. Our products are manufactured to the highest standards and our factory is responsible for meeting social compliance requirements which are monitored through factory audits conducted and approved by many of the largest brands in the world.

Headsweats also takes its obligation to meet all federal compliance requirements and regulations seriously. We abide by the requirements of the Consumer Products Safety Improvement Act (CPSIA), signed into law in August of 2008. Our products, adult headwear, are exempt from the CPSIA testing requirements as outlined in the Federal Standard; 16 CFR § 1610(1)(c) - This standard shall not apply to: (1) Hats. As such, this letter is to certify that Headsweats complies with CPSIA rules and regulations.

Sincerely,

Mike McQueeney, President
