

November 17, 2014

Dear Valued Customer:

The U.S. government passed the Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act (CPSIA) on August 14, 2008, to strengthen federal consumer product safety laws enforced by the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC). The CPSIA requires the issuance of a General Certification of Conformity (GCC) for every consumer product that is subject to any safety rule, ban, standard, or regulation enforced by the CPSC. The GCC is required for all applicable consumer products manufactured on or after November 12, 2008. CPSC has issued a final rule requiring that all domestic manufacturers and importers provide the GCC.

Please be assured that Storm Creek has a reasonable testing program in place for all of its apparel and accessory products as and to the extent required by the Flammability Fabrics Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder (16 CFR Parts 1602-1632), the lead in surface coating limit (16 CFR Part 1303), sharp points and edges standard (16 CFR §1500.48/49) and regulations regarding lead content pursuant to the Federal Hazardous Substances Act (15 U.S.C. §1261), which are the only Consumer Products Safety Commission standards, bans, rules or regulations that apply to the products manufactured, imported, distributed or sold by Storm Creek. Please be advised that, except for the Flammable Fabrics Act, these standards, bans, rules and regulations apply only to “children’s products” and that Storm Creek does not sell any children’s products to you and anyone for that matter.

Please be advised that any certifications we provide are for the finished, blank products we sell. If a blank product we sell is later decorated, altered or treated by a third party, our testing and certifications will not apply to the decoration or additional treatments added to the garment.

We will continue to monitor CPSIA developments and to make any necessary adjustments to our program, in order to comply with any CPSC rules, as they become law. Please feel free to contact us should you have any questions regarding the safety of our products.

Contact for Customer Service with questions: cs@stormcreekapparel.com

Sincerely,

Storm Creek