

March 23, 2020

Dear Valued Customer –

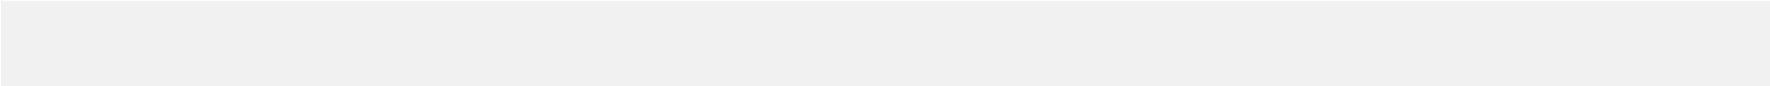

Due to the impact on industry demand resulting from the unprecedented market conditions, we are temporarily closing our Seattle, Denver and Orlando distribution centers -- the remaining distribution centers in our network are available to service you. See our national distribution center map.

We will follow up as soon as we receive more information regarding the re-opening of our distribution centers.

We apologize for any inconvenience. Our mission remains as strong as ever – to serve and support you in any way we can and deliver a world-class Customer experience.

And, as always, thank you for your business and support.

alphabroder Operations Team

A large, solid grey rectangular area that has been redacted, likely covering a signature or contact information.