

The health and safety of our customers and employees are our top priorities. As we continue to closely monitor the Coronavirus (COVID-19), we are taking action based on guidance from public health officials and government agencies, including the Center of Disease Control and the World Health Organization.

The long-term impact of the virus still has yet to be seen. Our teams are working tirelessly to manage this situation, while also understanding the human aspect and having compassion for those who have been directly impacted by the virus.

With that in mind, we are taking our sales team off the road. But they are, as always, available to assist you with any needs you may have. Additionally, our distribution centers, call centers and inside sales teams are operating under a “business as usual” model. The outbreak of the Coronavirus has more people working from a virtual office so it’s important to stay connected. We strongly encourage you to use alphabroder’s digital assets and other resources for self-service selling. These tools, tips and tricks will help you successfully maintain productivity while working remotely.

We very much appreciate your business and support.

alphabroder's WORK FROM HOME TOOLKIT:

Stick to Your Morning Routine

Try to complete your normal morning tasks while you're at home. Make sure to get dressed as you normally would to go to the office. What else in your morning routine indicates that you are about to go to work? It might be having a cup of coffee or stretching. Whatever it is, keep doing it even when your office is your home.

Maintain Regular Hours

Set a schedule & stick to it. This will also help you to maintain a work-life balance while being at home.

Take Breaks

Make sure to still take time away from your screen while you are at home to avoid burnout. Remember to take a lunch break, and stay hydrated.

Choose a Dedicated Office Space

Not everyone has an office space in their home, but try to dedicate a small desk or table to be your work space. Try to steer clear of spaces in your home that are associated with leisure time, like your bed or the couch.

Set Some WFH Rules

If you will not be home alone, make sure to set some ground rules with whomever you are sharing your space. Make sure that spouses/children/roommates know that even though you are home, you are working and need to be productive.

Stay Connected

Working remotely will require you to over-communicate with your co-workers. Make sure to stay in contact and schedule video calls when needed. There are a ton of programs available that will help you stay in touch.

Here are a list of programs:
